

The goal is to make a site where the user can add multiple recipes, and delete already made ones, as well as open up each recipe and read the ingredients, and step by step instructions on how to make the food.

